Aquila Joins List of Exhibitors at Cannes Yachting Festival

Clearwater, FL (July 18, 2014) Sino Eagle Yacht Company is proud to announce their attendance at the 2014 Cannes Yachting Festival. This is the first year the group will be attending the show to introduce their brand new line of luxury power catamarans to the European market of luxury yachting.

Aquila Yachts represents the newest and most exciting yacht evolution on the market today offering practicality and comfort with trend setting innovation, quality and design for both the private and charter markets.

“We are very excited to attend this prestigious show in Cannes this year. The Cannes Yachting Festival is one of Europe’s leading boat shows showcasing the finest in pleasure boating and international luxury yachting. Our focus on delivering an unparalleled luxury power catamaran with uncompromising design briefs make our participation a natural fit for the show’s esteemed attendees in this unique atmosphere” said Frank Xiong, CEO of Sino Eagle Group.

Lex Raas, President of Charter and Special Initiatives of MarineMax, the U.S. distributor of Aquila, stated “It’s a great privilege to be able to attend the Cannes Yachting Festival this year where we are excited to share the Aquila brand with international dealers and customers alike. While Aquila yachts will not be in-water, we will be represented at an Aquila booth where I will be throughout the event to share the brand story and models available.”

Construction of Aquila power catamarans began in 2012 through a partnership between Sino Eagle Group and MarineMax, the world’s largest power boat retailer. Then through collaboration with development, design and manufacturing firms including J&J Design Group and Seaway, the team set out to develop a new, purebred power cat unlike anything in the marketplace today.

This evolution in power catamarans, a fusion of European, American and Asian innovation includes 36’, 38’, 44’ and 48’ models bringing an entirely new perspective to the private ownership and charter markets, and is quickly becoming the choice of the world’s leading Marine charter and boating lifestyle companies.

At the show, which runs from September 9 – 14, Aquila Yachts will be located La Pantiero Booth PAN235.
